JURY AND PRIZES

The Technical Jury, composed by professional and specialized figures from the Art field and Culture in general, will give the chance to spread their artwork's visibility to all participants and not just to the winners.

The members of the Jury will be:

- President of the Fondazione Malagutti;
- President of AI – Image Authors Association;
- President of Alfaomega OdV;
- Editorial director of "Menabò";
- Art critic;
- Journalist.

The Judging Commission will award a prize of €2.500, 00 to the author of the First Prize. His/her illustration will become the symbolic image for the following advertising of promotional material (poster, participation form and creativity for the press announcement) of the XVI International Exhibition of Figurative Arts in 2025.

The Second Prize will receive a check of €1.000, 00.

10 additional, selected works will be awarded with the Third Prize, which consists in the creation of a calendar; all its authors will receive 5 copies of it each, together with a Special Mention.

All the winners will be granted the opportunity to hold a personal exhibition at the Diritti a Colori Art Gallery located in the historical center of Mantua.

The calendars will be available to the public, through free offering, in order to raise funds to support the activities of the Community for Minors "Costanza F. Giancola" managed by Fondazione Malagutti.

Any decision on any non-specified issue in this regulation made by the Jury is final.

The 1st and 2nd winners and the 10 authors selected for the third prize, by accepting the acknowledgments, will grant Fondazione Malagutti onlus the property of the artworks and of the non-exclusive rights connected to them.

Fondazione Malagutti onlus, by its nature, does not develop commercial actions, but it is based on free contributions collected in public events. These contributions support social purposes and assistance activities.

The Foundation always commits to mention the authors of the works.

DONATION OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Fondazione Malagutti onlus aims to promote illustrators' works by giving them the possibility to donate their pieces of art to Fondazione and offering them the widest visibility through the organization of exhibitions and the realization of products and publications, such as the illustration book "We are the future".

Fondazione Malagutti engages to enhance the artists by exposing the donated artworks in the Exhibition Space #dirittiacolori in 1/B, San Longino Street, in the historical centre of Mantua, and in other prestigious locations, always securing the artists' copyrights.

The return of the non-donated works will take place at the end of the Competition with shipping costs in charge of the receiver to Italy and abroad.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSABILITIES

By participating to the Competition and signing the application form, all the authors grant Fondazione Malagutti onlus the non-exclusive right to reproduce the sent images on the on the Diritti a Colori Facebook and Instagram pages, on the website www.dirittiacolori.it and throughout all the other digital means (websites, social networks, TV broadcasts, online newspapers, etc.) and non-digital (brochures, flyers, folders, invitations, posters, shoppers, postcards, calendars, bookmarks, greeting cards and any paper-based support) to promote the initiative itself.

It is needed to clarify that the previous list is merely illustrative and it is not comprehensive of all the uses that we retain the right to employ concerning the previously mentioned works. The use of the aforesaid images does not give the authors the right to any compensation; the initiative organiser's unique obligation is to always credit the author.

The works competing must be authentic and original. The candidates guarantee the authorship of the presented works; the participants also explicitly release and free the Organising Body from any possible claim for compensation coming from third parties for any reason and declare, on their own and personal responsibility, both criminal and civil, that the submitted projects do not violate the regulations in force on the subject.

Fondazione Malagutti onlus retains right to call off and/or modify the initiative and not to go on with the selection for the reasons that it considers as valid. In case of annulment, Fondazione will refund the participation fees and return the artworks covering any shipping cost.

By enrolling, the Author accepts all the conditions of this regulation and assumes all liabilities, both criminal and civil, arising from the publishing of the works, setting Fondazione Malagutti onlus free from all responsibilities.

In addition, the author discharges Fondazione Malagutti onlus from any responsibility for damage, theft or fire regarding the entrusted artworks, during: transport and their return. The Court of Mantua will be competent for any controversy.
